

COACHING MASTERCLASSES

3 X 3 HOUR ONLINE WORKSHOPS

The Program

Learn new advanced coaching skills. Practical tools based on robust evidence.

Multiplicity

We often talk about ourselves as if we were simple, single entities but the available evidence suggests we are multiple. An understanding of multiplicity opens the door to a new and more sophisticated approach to understanding self.

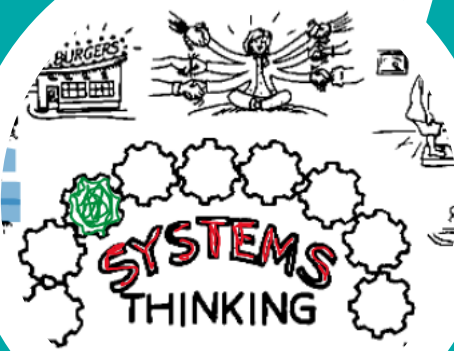

Systems thinking

Many coaches nowadays say they are 'systemic' without being able to fully articulate what that means. In this workshop we introduce five different ways of thinking about systems, and their implications for helping leaders successfully navigate change.

Dialogue

In this workshop you will learn what 'dialogue' means and its implications for coaching, leadership and change.

All programs designed and delivered by Dr Paul Lawrence, author of Leading Change, The Tao of Dialogue, Coaching in Three Dimensions, Coaching Systemically: Five ways of Thinking about Systems, The Wise Leader & The Wise Team Coach: Crafting a Personal Approach to Team Coaching.
